

G 4.3 Changes in Seasons

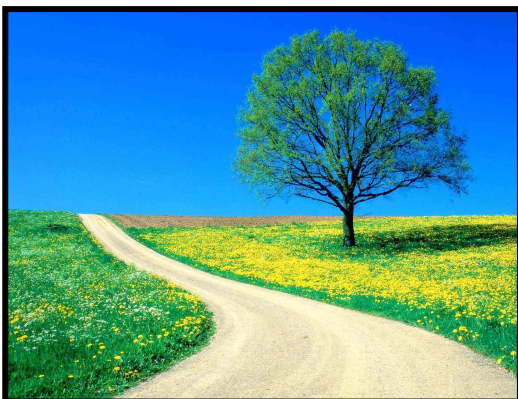

G4.3.1

Through pictures and photos we can observe seasonal changes in the landscape in Malta and abroad.

A. Fill in the blanks with the given words:

nature	cold	snow	leaves
tourists	season	sea	rain
thunder	winter	cool	flowers

If we look at a photo carefully, we can tell which _____ it is. For example, if we look at the first photo, it is easy to see that the season is _____, and that the photo was not taken in Malta. How can we tell? Naturally we note that it doesn't _____ in Malta, so the photo must have been taken abroad.

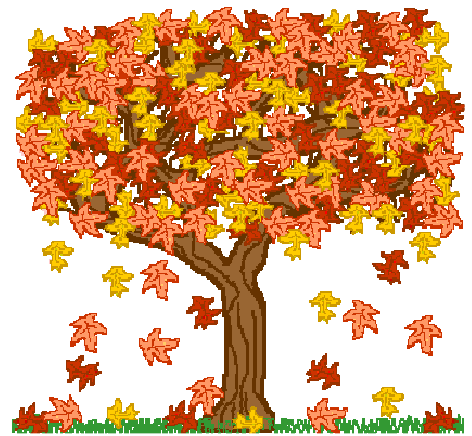

In spring, _____ comes to life. Leaves start growing on the trees again. The fields become full of plants and _____. The birds fill the countryside with their sweet singing. The weather is at its best, neither too warm nor too _____. This is the best time for an outing in the countryside.

You can't think of summer in Malta without thinking of the _____. The weather is very warm and the Maltese people, along with the many _____ who visit Malta during the summer months, find that there is nothing better to do than to spend whole days by the sea. It doesn't _____ in summer, so the countryside is very dry. The clothes we wear are light and _____. In summer we don't have to go to school and so we have a lot of free time.

In the third week of September, once summer is over, we go back to school. Nature, once again, starts preparing itself for winter. The trees shed their _____. There will often be storms with rain and _____.

B. Write about the MALTESE COUNTRYSIDE.

The Maltese countryside in summer:

The Maltese countryside in winter:

C. Draw a sketch of the Maltese countryside in winter.

A large, empty rounded rectangular box with a double-line border, intended for drawing a sketch of the Maltese countryside in winter.